Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Tuesday 30 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Heavy rain in northwest, drier and feeling warm in east.

Today:
The Northern Isles and northwestern Scotland remain cloudy with rain, the heavier more persistent rain in northwest edging back south later. Eastern Scotland once again seeing some warm spells of sunshine.

Tonight:
Cloudy and wet for much of the north with rain slowly edging south, becoming very windy for a time for the northwest and Hebrides, drier and clear in the south.

Wednesday:
Outbreaks of rain, with hill snow, in the morning in north accompanied by strong winds, becoming drier and brighter in the far north later. Drier and brighter in the south.

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
A lot of drier and brighter weather for the the second part of the week but feeling colder, with overnight frosts, but largely dry with sunny spells and light winds.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.